SIMS DEFENDANT IN SUIT BROUGHT BY MRS. HOLLOWELL

Amended to Permit His Name to be Added to List Already Included.

Robert Hollowell's Case to be Tried This Month.

WHERE JURY WILL COME FROM

An amended petition was filed in the federal court this morning by Mrs. Mary L. Hollowell against John E. Hollowell and others, in which she names William Sims, of Caldwell county, defendant in the action, which she brought to recover $50,000 damages as a result of an alleged night rider raid. It is stated that at the time of the raid she failed to recognize Sims as one of the mob, but since she has discovered evidence that causes her to have reasonable grounds to believe he was there, Mrs. Hollowell also alleges that the motive of the mob in driving her out of the state was to prevent her testifying as a witness against the defendants.

The Robert Hollowell suit is not amended as this case stands for trial at the special term of federal court called by Judge Evans for May 11.

Much speculation is indulged in as to where the jury will come from. Judge Evans stated at the close of the first trial that the panel would come from places not affected or influenced. It is believed the entire venire will come from Jefferson and probably one other county and that the most prominent business men in the state will be selected.

BALLARD BANK CASE

Nothing sensational has developed in the robbery of the Ballard County bank according to the police, and it is believed there will not be any arrests until after the grand jury, which is in session at Wickliffe, returns some indictments. More witnesses were before the jury today. Chief Collins says that the Paducah detectives have completed their work, and the field is left to the Pinkerton detectives. This afternoon Chief Collins had little to say about the robbery, but said there might be men arrested for the robbery, who have never been connected with it in the public mind. Others who have been connected with the robbery by common talk, the chief says are innocent.

John Bulger and Ernest Elmendorf, charged with being common gamblers, were held to answer in police court this morning by Judge Cross. Many witnesses were introduced by the commonwealth, and there were several had memories. The bond of each was fixed at $150.

MONEY LENDERS WIN

The ordinance requiring money lenders to pay $500 licenses was declared invalid this morning in police court by Judge Cross in the two cases against E. H. Egan and the two cases against James T. Smith. The case will be taken to the court of appeals.

Attorney Mike Oliver filed a demurrer and alleged that the license was class legislation, that it was prohibitive and that it discriminated in favor of one class. His contention was that the city had no right to prohibit business by an indirect means when it could not do so by direct means. City Attorney Arthur Martin argued for the city and the lawyers were loaded with authorities. Judge Cross held that the ordinance came within the meaning of class legislation and sustained the demurrer and dismissed the warrant.

DID FINE BUSINESS WITH BUZZ-FANS, POLICE SAY, UNTIL PEOPLE GOT NEXT

All Kinds of Exchanges Effected
Among Paducah Business
Houses by Energetic Fixer.

Charged with obtaining money by false pretenses, W. S. Walter was arrested late yesterday afternoon by Patrolman William Johnson and Detective Emilie Gourette. It is alleged that Walter went to business houses, and made contracts to repair and clean buzz fans. He took them from the owners and the police, it is claimed, have discovered where he has sold several fans, alleging they were his property. Walter was arrested yesterday afternoon while trying to secure a third fan, it is said, from Harbour's department store. This morning his case was continued until Monday morning.

Two weeks ago the police received complaints about missing fans and have been on the watchout for the thief. Some one secured a fan from A. D. Buchanan's restaurant, 219 Kentucky avenue, and it was sold to M. Marks, a clothier on South Second street. The man took two fans from Harbour's department store and sold one to Clarence Miller, agent for the Henderson Brewing company, and sold the other one to Bartender Wadlington, of the Palmer House. He agreed to clean and repair a fan for Mr. Miller, but the buzzer has not been found. A fan was taken from D. E. Wilson, and it has not been traced to where it was sold.

Bartender Craig, of C. W. Rodfus' saloon, agreed to have Walter repair his fan, and instead of returning it, Walters is said to have sold it to J. P. Fowler, Second street and Kentucky avenue. John Rehkopf purchased a fan from Walters and David Desberger also bought a fan from the

POSTOFFICE HAS BIG INCREASE TO START NEW YEAR

"Uncle Sam" is certainly doing a good business with his local postoffice, as is evidenced by the monthly reports of business covering the new year. Every month this year has shown an increase over last year, but April scored a far greater gain than any other month. The sales for April last year were $4,798.07, and this year $5,589.35, an increase of $791.28. April is the first month of the fiscal year.

Local wholesale houses report a marked improvement in business for April, and daily evidences of improvement in all lines of trade are observable. The railroads report a noticeable improvement, the first they will admit of, in the last few weeks, and the river business is also reporting nice increases.

I believe Bryan is the choice of the majority of the Democrats in this country."

HORSE RUNS AWAY KILLING DRIVER NEAR BROOKPORT

Brookport, Ill., May 2.—Young Bertrand, accompanied by his son Ralph and Lee Johnson, started to drive in a buggy from Brookport to the home of William DuSouchet to assist Mr. DuSouchet in shearing sheep. Three miles from Brookport the horse became frightened at a gypsy camp on the roadside and ran away. Mr. Bertrand either fell or jumped from the buggy, striking his head. The shock was such as to cause concussion of the brain. This with other internal injuries, resulted in his death. Dr. Adkins, of Brookport, and Jacobs, of Metropolis, were called to attend Mr. Bertrand, but he was beyond the reach of human assistance when they arrived. Mr. Bertrand had but recently sold his farm and his personal property and removed to Brookport, where he had bought a home and settled his family.

TRAINMEN ARE FOUND

Butte, May 2.—Passenger trainmen, with the exception of Engineer Busse, on the east-bound Burlington flyer of the Northern Pacific, which was blown up near here during the night, have been accounted for. It is thought Busse's body is under the debris. The explosion is believed to be the work of train robbers, but there is no clue. The explosion threw the first engine to the side of the track. The second engine followed, but the coaches remained on the rails.

Carl Mange, riding the blind baggage, was seriously hurt and buried under the wreckage. He was not found until he was dug out. George Ehle, fireman of the second engine, was scalded. The mail car was hurled on its side. A cold storage fish car was demolished. The train was going forty miles an hour when the explosion lifted the engine from the track.

Grain Market.

St. Louis, May 2.—Today's quotations are: Wheat, 103 1/4; corn, 69 1/4; oats, 53.

Wheat Took Flight When News Got Out That Armour Had Cornered All May Cereal in Sight—Corn Goes Up

Exciting Times in Chicago Pit
When Shorts Try to Cover and Send Price of May Product Skyward in Effort.

Chicago, May 2.—Scenes rivaling in excitement the wildest flurries on the board of trade in the days of "Old Hutch," Partridge and other spectacular plungers, were enacted in the Chicago wheat pit. Wheat soared and so did oats and corn. The cause of the commotion was the discovery that the grain markets have been cornered. At least this is the way the "shorts" looked at the situation.

When they tried to cover their trades in wheat they found little stuff for sale, and they then awoke to the realization that the Armour Grain company owns practically the whole supply of May wheat in the local elevators—about 6,500,000 bushels—and that the same interests were still buying every loose bushel in sight.

When this fact dawned upon the "shorts" everybody tried to buy wheat, but the Armour people, who alone had the goods, were slow to respond. They let go in dribs and drabs. In this way the quotations jumped to 104. Subsequently the price was allowed to recede to 103 1/4.

Patten Has the Corn.

While wheat was making its upward flight James A. Patten, widely known in grain circles as the "corn and oats" specialist, kept his weather eye on the markets to which he is giving his particular attention. On deliveries before the opening Mr. Patten was "handed," according to careful estimate 6,000,000 bushels of oats and 3,000,000 bushels of corn.

According to report current on the exchange floor, Armour, while gunning for the bears in wheat, has been opposing Mr. Patten and his associates in oats and corn. The bulk of the big deliveries of the latter, it is said, were made by the bear interests. Brokers who are supposed to know say that Armour now owns practically all the contract wheat in store in Chicago, while the Patten crowd is in possession of the corn and oats.

Arkansas District for Taft.

Newport, Ark., May 2.—The Republicans of the Second congressional district nominated H. H. Myers, of Brinkley, for congress. Charles G. Henry, of this city, and H. H. Myers, of Brinkley, were chosen as delegates to the national convention. They were instructed for Taft.

NEW AUDITOR'S AGENT

Magistrate C. W. Emery received notice from Auditor James this morning that his appointment as auditor's agent for McCracken county has been revoked. Attorney W. M. Husbands succeeds to the place. Magistrate Emery has been expecting to be removed ever since the change from a Democratic to a Republican administration was made. He has served two years and has made a good record, collecting several large sums in back taxes, from several individuals. He is now interested in a large number of important suits, pending in the county court, and these will not be affected by his removal, according to the letter from Auditor James, who gives him authority to prosecute all cases filed. Mr. Husbands, the appointee, had the endorsement of a number of the leading Republican politicians of the city.

NIGHT RIDERS IN CALLOWAY MAY BE OFF GUARD A DAY

Sheriff James A. Edwards, Deputy Sheriff John G. Holland, John Downs and Bud Waterfield, all "night rider fighters" of Calloway county, are in the city this afternoon ostensibly to see the airship, but Sheriff Edwards intimated that they probably will combine business with pleasure. He refused to divulge the nature of the business. Mr. Holland is the deputy for Liberty magisterial district, which has been the center of the night rider trouble, and it is conceded that his work has been largely responsible in bringing the offenders to time. He is a unique character and although he is growing old he insists that he is yet "one of the boys."

Mr. Downs is a farmer and received two visits from night riders, but was not whipped. He has sold his fine farm and says as soon as the accused are convicted he will leave the county. At present, however, he is living in the same neighborhood where he has always lived, having rented a house near his old home place and will not be run away until he is ready to go.

Sheriff Edwards stated while here that of the 38 different men indicted for night riding he has arrested 35, the other three having left the country before indictments were returned. He said there are about 30 soldiers in Calloway now under Major Bassett. On the same train with the sheriff and his party was Judge Thomas P. Cook who is on his way to Lyon county, where he convenes circuit court Monday. Twenty-two soldiers under Major Albrecht preceded him there and it is understood to give protection to witnesses who are ready to testify against night riders. Judge Cook will deliver the same strong charge to the Lyon county jury that he did in Calloway.

Both of the young men gave $250 bonds and were released again. Only three other men indicted in connection with the night riding troubles in this county have not yet been arrested. Of these three, two men, Ross and Nathan Cummins, have sold their property and left the state. The other man is probably in the county, but has not yet been apprehended.

MRS. ALEXANDER'S USEFUL LIFE ENDS IN PEACE TODAY

Member of Prominent Family
Enters Into Rest After Brief Illness.

Husband and Child Preceded
Her to Grave.

TWO SISTERS AND BROTHER

Mrs. Mary Campbell Alexander, 75 years old, the widow of George Madison Alexander, died at 5:30 o'clock this morning from heart trouble at her home, 1221 Jefferson street. Mrs. Alexander had been sick only ten days. At the home of Mrs. Joe Fowler, 619 Kentucky avenue, Mrs. Alexander suffered a heart attack, which caused her to faint, but she had almost recovered, when Thursday night at 6 o'clock she began to grow worse and continued so until her death this morning.

Mrs. Mary Campbell Alexander was born at Salem, Livingston county, September 6, 1833, the daughter of Judge and Mrs. James Campbell, and six years later the Campbell family moved to Paducah. Mrs. Alexander has lived in this city ever since that time. In 1852 Mrs. Alexander was married to Mr. George Madison Alexander and one child was born, a daughter, Myra, who died in 1864. Two years later Mr. Alexander died.

Mrs. Alexander is survived by two sisters: Mrs. Carrie C. Flournoy, of Arcadia, and Mrs. Florence C. Moequod, also of Arcadia, and one brother, Judge James Campbell. Given Campbell, a brother, died in November, 1906.

Mrs. Alexander was up to the time of her death, the oldest living member and the first enrolled member of the First Presbyterian church of this city, and ever since her membership in the church Mrs. Alexander had been a devout worker for the church. The funeral will be held Monday. Definite funeral arrangements have not been made.

Mrs. Alexander was one of the most prominent women in Paducah. She possessed a fine and vigorous mentality and commanded the deep respect of all who knew her. Strong in her friendship she made warm friends and the circle was a large one, though her family circle, church and charitable work held her interests chiefly before her failing health of the last few years forced her to limit her activities.

Mr. Lucas' Funeral.

The funeral of Mr. Joseph Lucas, who died yesterday at noon, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence, 710 South Fifth street. The burial will be in Oak Grove cemetery.

NOTHING GIVEN OUT

Lakewood, May 2.—When a card was sent to Mrs. Grover Cleveland today, asking her husband's condition, it was returned with the message: "Nothing to say." No one about the hotel will discuss the former president's illness. Great apprehension is felt as to the exact nature of the illness. It is impossible to learn whether reported incurable stomach trouble is the real illness.

COUNTY EXAMS.

County School Superintendent Billington has announced an examination to be held at Lone Oak next Friday and Saturday for the purpose of testing pupils, who are applicants for county school diplomas. The examination will be conducted by the superintendent and Examiners M. P. Miller and Miss May Ellis.

SHOOTS SON-IN-LAW

Murray, Ky., May 2.—(Special.)—John Miller, a well known farmer residing west of Murray, shot Joe Leech, his son-in-law, in the neck three times last evening as the result of a quarrel over the possession of Leech's little child, who had been living with its grandparents. Leech's wife, Miller's daughter, had died, and yesterday Leech married again and decided to take the child home with him. He called at the Miller residence for that purpose and the trouble followed. Miller surrendered and gave bond. Leech probably will recover.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

No other medicine for Woman's ills in the world has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs.

No other medicine has such a record of success for woman's diseases, or such hosts of grateful friends as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For more than 30 years it has been the standard remedy for feminine ills, inflammation, ulceration, and consequent Spinal Weakness.

It has relieved more cases of Backache and Local Weakness than any other one remedy. It dissolves and expels tumors in an early stage of development.

Irregularities and periodic pains, Weakness of the Stomach, Indigestion, Bloating, Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility, quickly yield to it; also deranged organs, causing pain, dragging sensations and backache. Under all circumstances it acts in harmony with the female system.

It removes that wearing feeling, extreme lassitude, "don't care" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feeling, excitability, irritability, nervousness, flatulency, melancholy or "blues." These are indications of Feminine disorders, which this medicine overcomes as well as slight derangement of the Kidneys of either sex.

Women who are sick and want to get well should refuse to accept any substitute for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Sterling, Ky., May 2.—Accurate reports from the Tenth congressional district show that the forces of Secretary Taft are in absolute control and will organize the district convention to be held at Winchester, Tuesday, May 5, without a question of doubt. The two delegates who will be chosen are Allen N. Cisco, of Morgan county, and James Wallace, of Estill county. The re-election of the Hon. Robert H. Winn, of this city, as member of the state central committee is absolutely certain. The Taft forces will have certain 118 votes out of a possible 180 in the district. It is not believed the Fairbanks forces will attempt to make a fight, although they are keeping their plans a secret. The bitterest fight in the district convention will come up over an effort to instruct the two delegates to Chicago to vote for R. P. Ernst for member of the national committee over Lieut. Gov. W. H. Cox. The congressional convention will be held at the same time, and the present member, John W. Langley, will be renominated without opposition. He is very strong, and the Republicans believe he can be easily re-elected.

Women in Pain

should remember that there is a remedy, especially adapted to womanly ills, and should take Cardui.

You have heard of this well-known remedy.

It is composed of vegetable drugs that act in a medicinal manner upon the womanly constitution. It has been found to relieve pain, and prevent its recurrence. It has been found to build strength, to revitalize, and restore to health, weak, sick, miserable women, of all ages, in many parts of the world.

Mary Bagguley, of 117 Peach Street, Syracuse, N. Y., wrote: "I was passing through the change of life, and had been very sick, until I took Cardui.

Now I am a strong woman. My sister had always suffered with a pain in her side, since a girl of 15. Since she took Cardui she has not been troubled with that pain and is gaining strength nicely. Cardui has been a God-send to us both. I recommend it to all sick women."

Try it for your troubles. Your druggist sells it.

CHARLES ZUHALKE WAS INNOCENT OF THE CHARGE.

Through the efforts of Paducah attorneys Charles Zuhalko, who was sentenced to eight years in the penitentiary for robbery has been granted a pardon by Governor Wilson. Zuhalko is a tailor, and last year while he and a comrade were intoxicated near the New Richmond hotel, it was alleged that he robbed his companion of $15. Zuhalko was taken to the penitentiary last April and has served a year of his time. Since the sentence was passed there have grown grave doubts of Zuhalko's guilt. Some of the court officials doubted it when the evidence was heard. Zuhalko, accompanied by his attorney, is expected to return today.

IMPORTANT DECISION

Case of much interest was tried last Tuesday before Judge Emery, where George Ficklin, of this city, was charged with selling intoxicating liquors, and the evidence showed he sold Dr. Fizz, Crema and Vivo, prepared by A. M. Laevison & Co., and the proof all went to show these beverages were non-intoxicating, and the case was dismissed, as no violation of the law could be proven.

The Delphic Club is Receiving This Afternoon at Woman's Club House.

The Delphic club is having its open meeting this afternoon at the Woman's club house. For several years the club has received informally at the close of the year's work and presented an attractive program. These have been delightful social occasions and this year will be equally notable. The club colors, green and white, are carried out in the decorations of the rooms, palms, ferns and white carnations being effectively used. Light refreshments will be served. A resume of the year's study of Egyptian history and literature is outlined in the program being presented.

Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Watts Honored.

Miss Anna Webb and Mrs. William B. Webb gave an informal bridge party on Friday afternoon in compliment to Mrs. John Arnold Bell and Mrs. Frank O. Watts, of Nashville, Tenn., who are the guests of Mrs. Robert Becker Phillips. The house was prettily decorated with red roses. The prizes were won by Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Watts. They were a gold hat pin and a Dresden china hat pin holder. The luncheon was an attractively appointed affair. The cream was served in pretty baskets of cake decorated with the strawberry vine, leaves and flowers leed upon them. The individual cakes were leed in green and white. Strawberries were served with these and the plates were wreathed with red roses. Besides the two guests of honor there were: Miss Jane Skeffington, of Dyersburg, Tenn.; Mrs. Victor Voris, Mrs. Frank Boyd, Mrs. I. D. Wilcox, Mrs. W. B. McPherson, Mrs. R. B. Phillips, Mrs. William Marble, Mrs. Louise Maxwell, Mrs. John Keller, Mrs. Richard Terrell, Mrs. May Rieke, Mrs. John Scott, Miss Carrie Rieke, Miss Mary Boswell.

D. A. R. Chapter.

Mrs. Sallie Morrow was hostess to the Paducah chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, on Friday afternoon at her home on Jefferson street. It was the regular meeting of the chapter, but May Day was emphasized in a pretty and patriotic way. The front porch and doorway were with flags. Sweet peas in the vases of pink and white, were in careful profusion throughout the room. The tea and cakes of the delightful luncheon emphasized the pink and white motif in an attractive way.

At the business session of the chapter two steps were taken that are of more than usual moment and that promise far-reaching results. Mrs. S. R. Pulliam and Miss Emily Morrow were made a committee to consult with the proper authorities in regard to having the Flag placed on all the public buildings, the library, schools and city buildings. Mrs. Charles K. Wheeler and Dr. Della Caldwell were appointed to confer with Superintendent J. A. Carnegie as to the school children being trained to stand when the National Airs are played and to salute the Flag. Each member of the chapter pledged herself to set an example in this.

Dr. Della Caldwell, chairman of the Memorial Fountain committee, read a letter just received from Mr. Lorado Taft, of Chicago, stating that he had about completed the model for the fountain and that the picture would be sent to the chapter in a few days. An interesting character sketch of Rebecca Brian Boone was given by Miss Mattie Fowler. Mrs. George B. Hart gave some attractive music.

A report of the D. A. R. National Congress, just closed in Washington, was given by Mrs. Eli G. Boone, the regent of a chapter. Mrs. Boone was an interested attendant at all the sessions and her report was an enthusiastic summary of the most notable features of the event. Mrs. Boone gave it most attractively and covered the wide field in a brilliant way. The chapter heard with especial interest that when Mrs. Chenault, the state regent, made her report before the congress, of the 22 chapters of the state she only singled out three for especial mention and the Paducah chapter was one of the three, a most signal and deserved compliment.

There was a large attendance of the members and three new members were added to the chapter: Mrs. T. E. Holland, Mrs. I. D. Wilcox and Mrs. Paul Province.

Pretty Luncheon in Wedding Colors.

Mrs. Oscar L. Gregory was the hostess of a beautiful luncheon on Tuesday at 1 o'clock at her home, "The Hall," Gregory Place. The guests of honor were Miss Marjorie Scott, a bride of the week, and her out-of-town bridesmaids, Miss Elizabeth Gregory, of Louisville; Miss Lucie Brunen, of Webb City, Mo.; Miss Elsie O'bear, of St. Louis. The appointments of the table, the color of the linens and the pink and white motif of the wedding was an effective arrangement of sweet peas, the wedding flowers, the colors lavender, pink and white. Covers were leed for ten and the luncheon was a delightful affair.

Informal Afternoon for Visitors.

Mrs. A. Dabney entertained informally on Thursday afternoon at her home, North Fifth street, commencing at 3 p. m. Mrs. Hallie C. Bewley, of Port Worth, Texas, and Mrs. William H. Pinkerton, of Ghent, Ky. The hall was prettily decorated with sweet peas and the colors lavender and pink were attractively emphasized in the appointments of the luncheon. The out-of-town guests present in addition to the guests of honor were: Mrs. Frank O. Watts, of Nashville, Tenn.; Miss Lucy Brunen, of Webb City, Mo.; Miss Elsie O'bear, of St. Louis; Miss Elizabeth Gregory, of Louisville.

Symphonies and Sonatas.

The Matinee Musical club at its meeting on Wednesday afternoon at the Woman's club house will present an attractive program featuring Symphonies and Sonatas under the direction of Mrs. John W. Little and Mrs. Victor Voris, as follows:

1. Piano solo, Haydn's Sonata in D major—Miss Donovan.

2. Adagio, from "Sonata Pathétique," for violin and piano—Mrs. Eugene Robinson and Prof. Wam Deal.
3. Piano solo, "Marcia Funebre," from Beethoven's Sonatas, op. 26—Miss Isabel Mohan.
4. Piano duet, symphony, Allegro from "Eroica"—Misses R. and O'Brien.
5. Sonata in A major, by Neils Gade, for violin and piano—Mrs. W. C. Clark and Miss Dryfus.
6. Piano solo, "Moonlight Sonata," by Beethoven—Mr. George B. Hart.
7. "Sonata—Fantasia," (E. Woycke), for violin and piano—Prof. and Mrs. William Deal.

Planting a tree.
The following beautiful poem was read by Mrs. Victor Voris, president of the local Forestry association, at the open meeting held last week at the Woman's club, and is most happily suggested by the glory and greatness of the work:

"What do we want when we plant the tree?
We plant the ship which will cross the sea,
We plant the mast to carry the sails,
We plant the planks to withstand the seas,
We plant the keelson, and beam and the ribs,
We plant the ship when we plant the tree.

Why do we do when we plant the tree?
We plant the houses for you and for me,
We plant the rafters, the shingles, the floors,
We plant the studding, the lathes, the doors,
The beams, the sidings, all parts that be;
We plant the house, when we plant the tree.

What do we plant when we plant the tree?
A thousand things that we daily see,
We plant the spire that out-towers the Craig,
We plant the staff from which waves the flag;
We plant the spade from the hot sun free;
We plant all these when we plant the tree."

Complimentary to Attractive Tennessee Women.

Mrs. Clarence Sherrill's informal tea on Thursday afternoon from 4:30 until 6:00 was a pretty compliment to her house guest, Miss Mary Swigart of Union City, Tenn., and to Mrs. Frank O. Watts, of Nashville, Tenn., who is visiting Mrs. Robert Becker Phillips. The attractive Sherrill home on Fountain avenue was especially effective in its decorations, carnations with ferns being used throughout. The hall was a symphony in red. In the parlor white carnations, with the green made a charming effect. The appointments of the dining room were pink and the tea table held an artistic basket of pink carnations.

Receiving with Mrs. Sherrill in the parlor were: Miss Swigart, Mrs. Watts and Mrs. Robert Phillips. In the hall were Mrs. Edward H. Bringham and Mrs. Vernon Blythe. In the dining room Mrs. W. B. McPherson poured the tea. Mrs. Luke Russell, Miss Margaret Park, Miss Blanche Hills and Miss Philippa Hinghes received in the dining room. An informal musical program was delightfully rendered by Miss Anne

Daily Thought.

A high purpose ties up the entangling lines of otherwise dangerous leisure.

Willie Bryan says Yon Yonson may chew his wax till recess.

THE POINT OF VIEW.

How easy it is to asperse the motives of another, and how suspicious a person's conduct becomes when he is accused of wrong doing, were shown in the submarine boat scandal, which has proved a mystifying circle ending with the identification of an anonymous letter writer. Representative Lilley charged the electric boat concern with exercising undue influence at Washington, and it was discovered that his first information came from an anonymous letter. The letter was traced to an officer of a competing company, but in the meantime bureau officials and the secretary of the navy as well as numerous congressmen were on the carpet, and all their transactions in the boat line looked suspicious as if they were favoring the electric company, until the mystery was cleared. Then their conduct appeared perfectly natural. There is a great deal in the point of view, and a man as well as a building looks crooked, when viewed from a queer angle.

The Owensboro Inquirer says: "The Morning Register having gone into the hands of a receiver at Paducah, the News-Democrat, one of the afternoon papers, will take the morning field. That will leave Paducah with only two daily newspapers, both good ones, one of them a morning and the other an afternoon paper. Two are enough, and Paducah will have to grow to ten times its present size before there will be room for a third daily paper."

The "Star League," composed of the Indianapolis, Muncie and Terre Haute Stars, the leading papers of Indiana, has gone into the hands of a receiver. Newspaper competition, carried on in view of the public, is keener than that of any other business, and a natural desire to excel in appearance and completeness impels publishers to rash enterprises. It costs lots of money to maintain a newspaper. The circulation doesn't pay for it, and nearly every city offers its example of fortunes sunk in the newspaper business.

WESTERN KENTUCKY'S CLAIMS.
 Western Kentucky must have a representative in the Big Four to the national Republican convention. This end of the state has been ignored too often. There is no distinction in being a Republican in the Eleventh district. It means something to be a Republican in the First, and it is a noticeable fact, that when the Gibraltar falls to come up with a big Democratic majority, the state goes Republican. That is to the credit of the Republicans of the Purchase.

They are entitled this time to representation on another score. Taft has won a notable victory in Kentucky in the face of seeming odds. The Fairbanks men pinned their faith to the First district and held an early convention to set the example for the remainder of the state. The good Republicans of western Kentucky came up nobly for Taft and the moral effect of the First district convention the remainder of the state is incalculable. Just for that, the Purchase Republicans should be accorded the honor of representing the state in the vote for Taft at the national Republican convention.

THE SOUTHERN DELEGATES.
 It was a good week. Arkansas, Colorado, Maine, Maryland and West Virginia and North Carolina joined the Taft column. Significantly in connection with these returns Mississippi, Florida and Tennessee send contesting delegations and Louisiana and Virginia send unopposed delegations to the Chicago convention. It has been iterated and reiterated that the Taft boom was bolstered by administration favor and his chief support would come from the "rotten boroughs" of the far south. On the contrary the only effective opposition to Taft has been in the states where federal patronage and money are the only things that arouse sufficient interest in a Republican convention to attract a quorum. Other candidates have been unable to manage their own state delegations without Taft's peremptory instructions to his friends to support them through courtesy.

Maine, Massachusetts, Vermont, New Hampshire, Michigan, Ohio, the Dakotas, Nebraska, Iowa, Missouri, Colorado, Arkansas, Maryland, West Virginia, Kansas, North Carolina and Kentucky—these are for Taft. When he needs them, New York, Wisconsin and part of Illinois will be for him. Control of the southern delegation has been the deciding factor in most contested Republican conventions, and it would be nothing to the discredit of Mr. Taft if the south was as solidly for him as it was for President McKinley; but the Taft sentiment knows no sectional lines and no class feeling.

KENTUCKY AT THE CONFERENCE.

The appointment by Kentucky's governor of three representatives for Kentucky at the conference to be held at the white house May 13 to 15 paves the way for active participation by the state in a meeting which promises important results to the whole country, says the Courier-Journal. The conference is the idea of the president. It has been one of his hobbies to take steps to conserve the resources of the United States, which, it might well be remarked in passing, has been for long a hobby of many another.

In all sections the waste of property and power has been something scandalous. Our forests have been ruthlessly destroyed and as a consequence timber has become so greatly reduced in supply that the obtaining of wood for commercial and all other purposes is daily becoming a more difficult problem. Their destruction has had its evil effects in other ways, for the soil, the flow of streams, ground water, purity and volume of rivers and navigation have shown impairment. Something must be done to preserve existing forests and insure the replanting of trees for the future. Public lands have been dissipated. This state of things needs attention. Water power has been given away—water power of streams owned by the people and representing untold fortunes in their energy. These bespeak abuses and graft. And in other ways and fields the nation has suffered in the past by loose methods and bad laws. In some lines it is too late to do much good. In some others care, caution and wisdom, combined with the firm hand, can do wonders. If the nation is to be on the upgrade these wonders must be performed. The warning sounded a year ago by so serious a student of economical conditions as James J. Hill still resounds in the nation's ears. It is barely possible that this warning was responsible for the action of Mr. Roosevelt in calling the conference about to be held. Mr. Hill is to be one of the conspicuous figures in attendance.

Of course, the coming meeting can not legislate. It can only influence. As it is to be composed of the governors of the various states and three representative leaders from each state its influence should be powerful. Such a body acting together must necessarily develop a widespread sentiment. Then the prominent members acting individually in their respective states should keep up an agitation in their home communities not to be resisted by the state legislatures upon which, where congress has no say, must rest the burden and responsibility of safeguarding our resources in the future and, if possible, of overcoming the evils of past negligence. In most cases the duty is purely one for the state, and it will be a national calamity if, the impetus given the movement by the approaching conference does not lead to desirable action in the majority of the states where such action is urgent.

Kentucky's representatives are well equipped for the task put upon them and Kentucky citizens generally should support them in the admirable work they undertake.

DUN'S REVIEW.

New York, May 2.—Dun's Review says: "Bank exchanges this week at all leading cities in the United States are $2,077,994,085—24.1 per cent under a year ago and 37.8 per cent less than in the corresponding week of 1906. The losses this week are accentuated by the fact that the week in both preceding years includes two and three days respectively of the first days of May, when monthly settlements through the banks always add materially to bank clearings. This year the week ends on the last day of April. The decrease in bank exchanges is evenly distributed, though New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Baltimore and San Francisco report losses somewhat in excess of the average. Kansas City again reports a gain, and the losses at some of the leading western cities are below the average.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

OUTWARDLY the book accorded ill with its surroundings. In that place of desolation and death it typified the petty neatness of office processes. Properly placed it should have been found on a desk, with pens, rulers and other paraphernalia forming exact angles or parallels to it. It was a quarto, bound in marbled paper, with black leather over the hinges. No external label suggested its ownership or uses, but through one corner, blackened and formidable in its contrast to the peaceful purposes of the volume, a hole had been bored. The agency of perforation was obvious. A bullet had made it.

"Seen something of life, I reckon," said Trendon as the captain turned the volume about slowly in his hands. "And of death," resumed Captain Parkinson solemnly. "Do you know, Trendon, I almost dread to open this?" "Pshaw!" returned the other. "What is it to us?"

He threw the cover back. Neatly lettered on the inside, in the fine and slightly angular writing characteristic of the Tenthredine scholar, was the legend, "Karl Augustus Schermerhorn, 1409 1/2 Spruce street, Philadelphia, Pa." The opposite page was blank. Captain Parkinson turned half a dozen leaves.

"German!" he cried in a note of disappointment. "Can you read German script?" "After a fashion," replied the other. "Let's see. Es wouste sech—und—dreszig unterjacker," he said. "Why, last it was the man running a haberdashery? What have three dozen undershirts to do with this?"

"A memorandum for outfitting probably," suggested the captain. "Try here."

"Chemical formulae," said Trendon. "Pages of 'em. The devil! Can't make a thing of it."

"Well, here's something in English," "Good," said the other. "By combining the hypersulphate of iridium with the fumes arising from oxide of copper heated to 1000 C. and combining with picric acid in the proportions described in formula x 18, a reaction, the nature of which I have not fully determined, follows. This must be performed with extreme care owing to the unstable nature of the benzene compounds."

"Picric acid? Benzene compounds? Those are high explosives," said Captain Parkinson. "We should have Barrett go over this."

"Here's a name under the formulae—Dr. A. Hardenter, Ann Arbor, Mich. That explains its being in English. Probably copied from a letter."

"This must have been one of the experiments in the valley that Slade told us of," said the captain thoughtfully. "Why, see here," he cried, with something like exultation, "that's what Dr. Schermerhorn was doing here. He has the clue to some explosive so terrific that he goes far out of the world to experiment with its manufacture. For companions he chooses a gang of cut-throats that the world would never miss in case anything went wrong. Possibly it was some trial of the finished product that started the eruption even. Do you see?"

"Don't explain enough," grunted Trendon. "Deserted ship, Billy Edwards, mysterious lights, Slade and his story—no explosives in those? Good enough far as it goes. Don't go far enough."

"It certainly leaves gaps," admitted the other. He turned over a few more pages.

"Formulae, formulae, formulae. What's this? Here are some marginal annotations."

"Unbehaglich," read Trendon. "Let's see, that means 'highly unsatisfactory' or words to that effect. Hi! Here's where the old man loses his temper. Listen! May the devil take Carroll and Crum for careless!—him—well, 'pig dogs.' Now, where do Carroll and Crum come in?"

"They're a firm of analytical chemists in Washington," said the captain. "I was on the ordnance board I used to get their circulars."

WHAT IS POWER

pure supplies force. Wind in the wind-mill. The brook in the water-wheel. Coal runs the engine and food runs the man. Some things contain little force, some things much.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

Nature puts the power there. It is a wonderful flesh-producer. This is not a matter of nourishment, but of new vigor and activity the tissues.

All Druggists sell it for $1.00.

"June 1, 1904," he said. "It is done, Triumph (German word). Eureka. Es ist gefüllt. From the 'it' make out that word of the inscription—God-like power—solution of the world problems. Why, the old fool is crazy. And his writing is crazier. Can't take head or tail of it."

The captain turned several more pages. They were blank. "At any rate, it seems to be the end," said Trendon. "I should hope so," returned the other disgustedly.

He took the book on his knees, turning the leaves between thumb and finger. Suddenly he checked, cast back and threw the book wide open. "Here beginneth a new chapter," said he quietly.

"Here beginneth a new chapter," said he quickly.

No imaginable chronology could have struck the eye with more of contrast to the professor's small and nervous hand. Large, rounded and rambling, it filled the page with few and careless words.

June 2, 1904.—On this date I find myself sole occupant and absolute monarch of this valuable island. This morning I was a member of a community, interesting if not precisely peaceful. Tonight I am the last leaf. "All his lovely companions are faded and gone," the sprightly Solomon, the peevish nigger, the amiable Throckmole, the cheerful Perdoo, the genial Puk and the high minded Eagen. Undoubtedly the social atmosphere has cleared; moreover, I am for the first time in my life a landed proprietor. Item, several square miles of grass land; item, several dozen head of sheep; item, a cove full of fish; item, a handsomely decorated cave; item, a sportive though somewhat unruly volcano. At times, it may be, I shall feel the lack of company. The sea gulls alone are not distrustful of me. Unoubtedly the sea gull is an estimable creature, but he leaves something to be desired in the way of companionship; hence this diary, the inevitable refuge of the empty mind. Materially I shall do well enough, though I face one tragic circumstance. My cigarette material, I find, is short. Upon counting up—

"Hang his cigarettes!" cried the surgeon. "This must be Darrow, Finicky beast! Let's see if it's signed." He whirled the leaves over to the last sheet, glanced at it and sprang to his feet. There, sprawled in tremulous characters, as by a hand shaken with agony or terror, was written:

Look for me in the cave.

PERCY DARROW.

The bullet hole in the corner furnished a sinister period to the signature.

Trendon handed the ledger back to the captain, who took one quick look, closed it and handed it to Congdon.

"Wrap that up and carry it carefully," he said.

"Aye, aye, sir," said the cockswain, swathing it in his jacket and tucking it under his arm.

"Now to find that cave," said Captain Parkinson to the surgeon.

"The cave in the cliff, of course," said Trendon. "Noticed it coming in, you know."

"Where?"

"On the north shore, about a mile to the east of here."

"Then we'll cut directly across." "Beg your pardon, sir," put in Congdon, "but I don't think we can make it from this side, sir."

"Why not?"

"No beach, sir, and the cliff's like the side of a ship. Looks to be deep water right into the cave's mouth."

"Back to the boat, then. Bring that flag along."

The descent was swift, at times reckless, but the party embarked without accident. Soon they were forging through the water at racing speed, the boat leaping to the impulsion of the sailorman's strongest motives, curiosity and the hope of saving a life.

Frankfort, Ky., May 2.—After waiting for eight years, it is now certain that the soldiers who nursed Gov. W. S. Through an order to Judge R. L. Stout here the name of Adj. Gen. P. P. Johnston as inspector of the payrolls, was substituted in the petition of the soldiers for that of former Adj. Gen. Percy Haly, and, complying with the mandate of the court of appeals, the money will be distributed as soon as General Johnston has time to inspect the payrolls. There will be about $12,000 distributed.

HOTELS CAN'T SELL LIQUOR.

More Than 200 Hostels Without License in New York.

New York, May 2.—More than 200 hotels on Manhattan Island in the Bronx, among them the big Savoy at Fifth avenue and Fifty-ninth street, today were without licenses permitting them to serve liquors to their guests. Nearly 500 saloons, also without licenses, were ordered to keep their doors closed. This unusual condition is almost entirely due to the new liquor license law, which requires inspection and report by the department of buildings on every application for a license before a certificate is issued.

It is likely that nearly all the hotels and a majority of the saloons eventually will receive their certificates and will be permitted to continue business.

NEW FORM OF BOOTLEGGING.

Warrants Will Be Sworn Out Against Dyer Merchants.

Dyersburg, May 2.—There is considerable excitement over Dyer county now on account of the visit here of a Mr. Hinkle, of Savannah, Tenn., who represents himself as an attorney representing the Tennessee Pharmaceutical association, whose mission is to examine country stores and see if they are selling laudanum, paregoric, carbolic acid and morphine, and other household remedies containing poisonous substances. Thus a new form of bootlegging is gotten up on the unsuspecting country merchant, and some of our best law-abiding citizens are said to be caught in an unlawful act.

"Well, who said there was?" retorted Clerk Van Orden. "I told you to take that telegram to William Thomas, the toastmaster."

"Well, I seen the man what makes toast; he's got a French name."

"Take that telegram into the white and gold room and give it to William Thomas, who's presiding at the D. K. E. banquet."

"Oh, sure!"—San Francisco Chronicle.

Jailer Prevents Escape.

City Jailer Wade Brown prevented an escape from the jail this morning by his watchfulness in making frequent trips through the jail. A prisoner had unscrewed a leg from a bed and was prizing at the lock to the east entrance. The footsteps of the jailer caused the prisoner to drop his bar, and leave the door before the job was accomplished.

"Well, will you put a notice in the paper for a lady?" "Oh, yes; what is the notice?" "Will you put it in today's paper?" "Yes, if you will give it to me right quick."

"Well, will you put it in just as I say, please?" "Oh, I suppose so; but give it to me; give it to me quick."

"Well, then, please say—but I want it in today."

"Well, then, give it to me, if you expect it in."

"Well—Isn't it too late?"

"Oh, good gracious, girl, give me the notice quick or let me go; I have other work to do."

"Know how you're going to vote, eh?" grinned the politician.

"Yep," said the idiot. "I shall vote for Theodore Roosevelt."

"What, you?" cried the politician. "Why, thought you were agin' the administration."

"I am," said the idiot; but you see it's this way. In 1884 I voted for Blaine, and Cleveland was elected. In 1888 I voted for Cleveland and Harrison was elected. In 1892 I voted for Harrison and Cleveland was elected. In 1896 and 1900 I voted for Bryan and McKinley was elected both times. In 1904 I voted for Parker, and you know what happened. I am now convinced that the only way we can beat Roosevelt is for me to vote for him. Twigg?"

GOOD BLOOD

NATURE'S PROTECTION AGAINST DISEASE

The preservation of health and prevention against disease is almost entirely dependent upon pure, healthy blood; every organ, tissue, nerve and sinew of the body draws on this vital fluid for nourishment and strength. Poisons, humors and germs from various sources often get into the blood, and then this great life-stream becomes a source of infection and disease. Instead of a nourishing, health-sustaining fluid, heredity is likewise an important factor, regulating the quality of the blood. Some persons are born with tainted blood from diseased ancestry, and Scrofula in one of its numerous forms is sure to crop out some time in life. Not only poisons in the blood are responsible for disease, but when the circulation is run down and becomes poor and weak in quality, then we see the effect in a general bad condition of health, such as weakness, sallow complexions, boils, and various skin eruptions. All blood troubles require a tonic and blood purifier, and none other equals S. S. S. It goes down to the very foundation of the trouble, and removes every particle of the poison or impurity from the blood. And not only does S. S. S. antidote the poisons, humors and germs, but it possesses health-giving, tonic properties, which build up and strengthen weak, impoverished blood, and fortifies the system against disease. S. S. S. permanently cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Eczema, Tetters, and all other skin diseases and disorders. Book on the blood and any medical advice free.

No Bolt Desired by Majority of the Fairbanks Men in Kentucky, is Report

The Louisville Post says:

The Taft leaders both in Louisville and Kentucky are making preparations for the state convention next week and a number of important conferences have been held.

Probably the most important thing yet decided upon is relative to the contest cases from Louisville. The Taft men are determined to try the contests proposed by the Fairbanks men in the fairest way possible and to bring out all the evidence. With this in view it has been decided to put up on the credentials committee in the state convention from the Louisville district some men in whom the whole community has implicit confidence. It was stated this morning that the Taft men will propose the name of Col. Henry L. Stone for this position during the convention. It is believed that the Fairbanks men, who have the same confidence in Col. Stone as have the Taft men, will welcome the appointment of Colonel Stone. A prominent Taft leader said today:

"The appointment of Colonel Stone to this committee will give every assurance that the contests, if the Fairbanks men see fit to prosecute the contests, will be tried fairly. Every honest man in Louisville knows that Henry L. Stone will try those cases fairly. His name is a guarantee for honesty and independence."

Opposed to a Bolt.

From all parts of Kentucky news is coming in that Fairbanks leaders are opposed to any bolt at the state convention. The more sensible of the Fairbanks leaders see that Taft has undoubtedly carried Kentucky by a very heavy majority and that a bolt or a bolting convention would be ridiculous. One Fairbanks leader said today: "I am in favor of contesting at Chicago one or two congressional districts where the Taft men will likely get the regular credentials. I think it is foolish, however, to contest the delegates from the state-at-large. Taft has carried the state and everyone knows it. To bolt the state convention would simply mean that we are trying to injure the party at Chicago."

Mr. Deboe's Swan Song.

Mr. W. J. Deboe was eliminated as political factor yesterday afternoon when the state central committee by a vote of eight to one decided against him on every point raised in an appeal from his decisions at the recent First District Republican convention at Paducah.

Mr. Deboe presided at the convention when it was called to order. He first set a precedent by obeying the party law and seating delegations which held the regular credentials. Later he reversed himself and seated a bolting Fairbanks convention from Graves county. The Taft men then took charge of the convention, elected two Taft delegates to Chicago, and nominated Jerry Porter for congress and elected Jesse Speight state central committeeman to succeed W. J. Deboe.

The state central committee gave both sides a most careful hearing. The final decision was that Mr. Deboe's rulings were all contrary to party law and could not be sustained. The Taft men are seated and everything done by Deboe's convention is nullified. This puts the Taft men in complete control of the First district. The question of delegates to the Chicago convention must be settled by that body itself, but the practically unanimous action of the state committee yesterday indicates that the Taft men will be seated without difficulty.

Heavin' Has Won.

Mr. M. H. Heavin was receiving the congratulations of his friends yesterday over his fine victory in the Fourth congressional district in the race for state central committeeman. Mr. Heavin, who is one of the leading Taft men in the state, defeated Ben Brunner easily.

The indications now are that Taft will get twenty-two, and, counting the First district, twenty-four out of Kentucky's twenty-six votes in the Chicago convention.

Mr. J. T. Earle, of Latonia, has filed affidavits at Washington, charging J. A. Seller, assistant postmaster at Covington, with undue political activity.

What Did He Mean?

For a number of years a bitter feud had existed between the Browns and Perkins, the next-door neighbors. The trouble had originated through the depredations of Brown's cat, and had grown so fixed an affair that neither party ever dreamt of "making up." One day, however, Brown sent his servant next door with a peace-making note for Mr. Perkins, which read:

"Mr. Brown sends his compliments to Mr. Perkins and begs to say that his old cat died this morning."

Perkins' written reply was bitter. "Mr. Perkins is sorry to hear of Mr. Brown's trouble, but he had not heard that Mrs. Brown was ill."

—Harper's Weekly.

AT HOPTOWN

DETAIL OF BOWLING GREEN COMPANY ARRIVES.

Citizens Knew Nothing of Their Orders—Installed in Quarters on Sixth Street.

Hopkinsville, Ky., May 2.—Captain Denhardt and seventeen men of the Bowling Green military company, reached Hopkinsville last night on the accommodation. The men were all in heavy marching order and fully armed. They were installed in quarters on Sixth street.

No intimation had been given that the troops were to come here, although it had been rumored that a detail from Bowling Green company would be ordered into service and placed on duty at some point in western Kentucky. The soldiers of the company state that they know nothing as to what future orders will be sent here. As one expressed it this morning, "All I know is that this guard is to be changed every two hours and that I am to see to it."

Some say that the troops were ordered to report to General Roger Williams here. The last report from General Williams was that he was still between the rivers in Trigg county and if the Bowling Green company is to report to him here it will probably await his arrival in this city.

Southwestern Kentucky Association
Selects That Place at Bardwell Reunion.

Bardwell, Ky., May 2.—The next meeting of the Southwestern Kentucky Association of Odd Fellows will meet at La Center in April or May, 1909.

La Center was selected at the meeting at Bardwell, held last Monday, and the 3,000 Odd Fellows from this end of the state will be the guests of La Center and her hospitable people as a result.

The meeting at Bardwell was well attended by Odd Fellows from this section. The program was carried out in detail and was thoroughly appreciated by every one who attended. An excursion train was run from Paducah through to Bardwell and the low rates were taken advantage of by at least three or four hundred from this county alone. Quite a crowd attended from Hopkinsville, Russellville and Bowling Green.

The address of welcome was made by Circuit Judge Bug, whose home is in Bardwell and His Honor turned over the gates of the city to the visitors in grand style.

"Merry Widow" Hat Recipe.
Take one bicycle wheel, one superimpose on the hub one deep granite saucer, first shipping off the handles with an axe or sledge hammer. Stitch on the whole a cover of wine-colored velvet from your season's before last coat suit. Put on a three-inch binding around the tire or brim of canary-colored taffeta silk from your great-grandmother's party dress. Rip twenty-two yards of box ruching off your shirtwaist box and wind artistically about the crown. A soup ladle and a jointed meat fork will give the whole a jaunty effect if used as hatpins.—Newcastle (Ind.) Courier.

From a Recent Novel.

She dropped her eyes; he threw up his head.
Her face fell; he ground his teeth.
Her cheek burned; his heart sank.
She grew cold as ice; his brain was on fire.
Her heart came up in her throat; his brow grew dark.
Her eyes flashed fire; he tore his hair.
Her very soul was rent; he could have bitten his tongue in two for saying it.

She cast the lie back in his teeth; he swallowed a lump in his throat.
She shuddered as with a mortal wound; he grew weak as water.
An icy hand clutched at her heart; then he trembled like an aspen.
She grew faint and sick; he was in agony.
Plainly she strove for breath; his eyes blazed.

She swept from the room; he fell in a heap on the rug.
Plainly, after all this, life could never be the same again for either of them.—J. W. Foley, in Success Magazine.

Modest Claims Often Carry More Conviction Than Loud Boasts.

When Maxim, the famous inventor, placed his gun before a committee of judges, he stated its carrying power to be considerably below what he felt sure the gun would accomplish. The result of the trial was therefore a triumph of surprise instead of disappointment as it might have been if he had overestimated his gun's efficiency.

A Miss
At one of the side shows in a certain fair a principal performer was a knife-thrower who made a specialty of throwing knives all around a lady into a board at the back of the stage.

The partner of this artist was middle-aged, stout, and—well, very plain, and when she came on the audience gasped.

They had not thought it possible for anyone to be—well, so plain, and live through it.

The man arranged her to the board and at the critical moment threw the knife.

It flew through the air and stuck quivering in the board.

Thomas Jefferson
Third President of the United States.

AMERICA has furnished to the world the most conspicuous Apostle of Personal Liberty that ever lived.

The Declaration of Independence (the creation of his genius) is an eternal monument to his fame—more enduring than statues of marble or bronze.

As a statesman in Congress he advocated the brewing industry as an aid to agriculture and national temperance; and upon several occasions he bought and freighted rum, wine and whiskey to the brave soldiers of the Revolution. He himself declared that the juice of the malt was never absent from his board.

Thomas Jefferson was a splendid athlete, a crack shot; and in his prime at the old Raleigh tavern he delighted to enjoy his "cakes and ale" or dance half through the night with the fair maids of old Virginia.

At eighty-three he died, regretted by the nation he helped to create. His deeds and written thoughts absolutely and irrefutably prove that good malt beer is not injurious to mind or body.

CHRISTOPHER TRIES SUICIDE.

Self-Confessed Yeggman Found Hanging in Cell.

Cape Girardeau, Mo., May 2.—Walter Christopher, the self-confessed yeggman and all-round criminal, who is in jail at Jackson, tried to hang himself shortly after midnight. Mrs. Emory Cotner, whose husband is the jailer, and who was in St. Louis at the time, was alone in charge of the jail and was awakened by the unusual noise in the cellroom, which is on the second floor over her sleeping apartments. Ascending to the cells, she discovered Christopher partly hanging from the top of the cells with a rope made of torn strips from a blanket around his neck.

Mrs. Cotner unlocked the cells of trustees and asked them to enter the cell of Christopher, but they refused. Mrs. Cotner then sent for Sheriff Gockel, who went to the jail and found Christopher. Other prisoners told that he had eaten match heads in an attempt to poison himself.

Owing to divulgence of the prisoner's confession officers are reticent about the latest feature of his incarceration, but it is known that he was given an emetic to overcome poison of the match heads.
